

Date: August 2024	Job Type: Full-time, Permanent
Company Ref: FXD Capital Limited	Band: Analyst	Reports to: Directors
Division / Department: Sales & Dealing	Location: City of London
Company Overview: FXD Capital is a brokerage that specialises in cash deposits and money markets. The firm was founded in 2018 with a mission to improve the efficiencies of the cash holdings held at corporates and institutions by offering term deposits, notice accounts and money market funds from a diverse range of banks and asset managers. The firm also offers a foreign exchange, payments, and banking offering to further support their client's treasury needs after experiencing impressive growth in their client base and the deposits under supervision.
Role Definitions
Role Title: Analyst Role Description: FXD Capital are looking for articulate and hard-working individuals considering a career in financial markets and want to be part of an exciting fast-growing business with a collaborative and high-performing environment. This opportunity offers a progressive career with excellent earning potential and company recognition. If you are a self-starter with a great work ethic, willingness and want for new business development, that's looking for a real sense of purpose, then we would love to hear from you. To join the team, successful individuals will have a positive attitude and passion for personal development as well as great aptitude and ambition to meet the expected company standards and performance. This is a highly rewarding sales role and the successful individuals will be part of a small team where you will be responsible for new business development. Responsibilities of the Analyst <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Work through an existing database of qualified leads, as well as lead sourcing your own, to engage and develop relationships with treasury and finance teams, as well as C-level decision makers of medium to large organisations across all industries in the UK</li> <li>• Proactively make effective and highly professional telephone calls/ cold-calls and attend meetings to introduce prospective clients to the services we provide, demonstrating value in order for them to open an account that will contribute to your KPI's and Sales targets</li> <li>• Each prospective client offers the likelihood to develop a meaningful and long-term relationship for the firm, therefore the individual will need to be a people person who's organised with excellent communication skills and an ability to nurture and develop relationships.</li> <li>• Have an acute awareness of the outlook for monetary and fiscal policy, competitive landscape, industry changes and stay up to date with all financial markets, in particular money markets and foreign exchange</li> <li>• Liaising with the Portfolio Managers and the Directors on other key business areas as required</li> </ul>

Required Experience:

A minimum of six- twelve months in a junior broker/financial markets role or telemarketing/ telesales role with a passion for cold-calling and developing new business relationships

Package:

Remuneration: Basic up to £35,000 with a year-one OTE of £100,000

Other benefits include commission, health insurance and gym membership contribution

Private and Confidential – FXD Capital, 3 Lloyd’s Avenue, London, EC3N 3DS